2022 PRE-SEASON TRAINING PROGRAM

THE YUKON ADVANTAGE

The Yukon. Closer than you think, but beyond your expectations.

Our northern climate means more pre-season days that will get your team on snow before most hills see their first snowflake. We're firing up our snowmaking equipment while other hills still have their bike parks open. Experience the Yukon this season and get more days on snow.

BE THE FIRST ON SNOW THIS SEASON

AVERAGE TEMPERATURE
NOVEMBER / DECEMBER

- ▶ Mt. Sima gets snow earlier than most places in North America
- ▶ Your team could be on our snow as soon as November 8th
- ▶ Mt. Sima limits the number of pre-season teams to ensure exclusive access to the hill during training sessions
- ▶ Space to set your own course
- ▶ FIS homologated GS and slalom course
- ▶ Host venue for the 2007 Canada Winter Games and 2020 Arctic Winter Games

Mt. Sima's pre-season training is an opportunity to build a stronger team, in body and spirit. This season, separate yourself from the competition...

GIVE YOURSELF THE YUKON ADVANTAGE.

" The hill is a legit World Cup venue. I liked the fact that in the secluded environment we could focus each run, only had to share the hill with a small number from another team, and it was affordable. "

Sparky Anderson, University of Alaska

" I can say the Alberta Team has been there for 3 years now and love the earlier season training. "

Chris Ebborn, Alberta Park and Pipe

" Our team had such a fantastic time at Sima in the fall! This was our second year training with you guys and the awesome terrain park, particularly the rail garden at the base, combined with great weather conditions, your amazing staff, who were so helpful and welcoming, and the option of sled laps for the jumps, made for a fantastic pre-season training experience for all. Thank you again for having us! "

Sian Llewellyn, Agenda Freeski
